

Outdoor & Nature

Did you know?

The world's oldest tree is believed to be over 9500 years old. Found in Sweden, the spruce tree has the nickname 'Old Tjikko'.

NATURE TRAIL

Either using your garden or an outside space, go on a nature trail and see what you can find!

Take a small Ziplock bag, and see how many different things you can collect (make sure these are on the ground, do not pull anything off trees or flowers).

Whilst collecting items for your bag, consider the following—

How many animals can you see? Can you see their footprints or markings?

How many different colours are there?

What is the tallest tree you can find? What type of tree is it?

Is there any natural water nearby?
